

juvenile products

Product liability claims involving juvenile products raise special challenges. Our many years of experience in handling these cases have taught us that they require careful handling. Our team is well versed in handling such sensitive claims and we understand the substantial risks of juvenile product liability suits, ranging from unfavourable judgments to damage to a company's valuable brand and reputation. Plaintiffs' lawyers commonly allege that juvenile product manufacturers put profit before safety. Our lawyers have the expertise required to prove what you already know to be true: when it comes to products for children, without safety there is no profit.

Our lawyers know the relevant regulatory frameworks for the manufacture, import and sale of juvenile products in Canada and can provide you with specific advice on technical and testing requirements.

helpful links:

Health Canada

Hazardous Products Act and Regulations

Canadian Motor Vehicle Safety Standards for Child Restraints

<< RETURN to Product Liability Litigation